Mohammed's wife was twenty years older than her husband, and it is much to the credit of the latter that he honored her to the last. He ascribed much of his success to her assistance and influence. John Howard, the philanthropist, married out of gratitude a woman who was equally his senior. She died in a few years, however, and his second union was one of love. It was, however, also dissolved by the death of his wife, and then he devoted himself to philanthropy. Napoleon's first wife, Josephine, was his senior by six years, being 30 at the time of their marriage, while he was 25. It would have been well for him had he valued her conjugal love, whose violation was the beginning of his ruin. Aaron Burr also married a widow, who, like Josephine, had two children. Mrs. Burr was ten years older than her husband, but the union was very harmonious. She probably allowed him that large liberty with the fair sex to which he had been accustomed, and thus avoided domestic quarrels. John Wilkes, the famous London agitator of the last century, married a lady who was ten years his senior, but she was not willing to overlook his irregularities, and hence obtained a divorce.

Johnson, the lexicographer, married the Widow Porter, who had a small property. He was acquainted with the family before the death of her husband, and this helped in the matter of courtship. Mrs. Porter was 48, while her husband was only 21 at the time of the wedding. The parties started horseback for the place where the ceremony was to be performed, and Johnson thus described the journey to Boswell: "Sir, she has got into her head from old romances that a woman of spirit should use her lover like a dog. At first she told me I rode too fast and she could not keep up with me, but when I slackened my pace she passed me and complained that I lagged. I was not to be made the slave of caprice, and therefore pushed on till I was out of sight. When she got to the destination I observed that she was in tears." Johnson always mourned the loss of his wife, and though he was only 43 at the time of her death he never married again. How often in his subsequent writings he refers to his lost companion in the most affectionate manner.

When only 18 Shakspeare was married to Annie Hathaway, whose age was 26. Six months from the wedding day the first son was born to this ill mated pair. The husband and father had no means of supporting a family, and when the latter had increased to the number of a son and two daughters he fled to London. The deserted wife supported her children as best she could, and twenty years afterward her husband returned, and by his subsequent conduct strove to atone for his early error.

What Made Him Mad.

Yesterday afternoon Gilhooly sauntered up to a fruit-stand, and, after examining some of the fruit, asked the Major General in command if he believed in the Bible.

"I do," was the reply; "I have been a member of the Baptist Church for twenty-five years."

"If you believe in the Bible, then I suppose you admit that men are judged by their fruits, and that by their fruits ye shall know them," and, picking up an orange, Gilhooly showed him where there was a decayed spot as big as a half-dollar on it. The kick that good man discharged at Gilhooly knocked a hole in the awning five feet above his head.

WOMEN are generally in favor of corporal punishment. They never go anywhere without their switches.

AN investigating committee is a body organized for the purpose of either whitewashing or ruining the accused.

IF it took coffee as long to settle as it does men, a great many of us would drink water.

IN Glasgow, Scotland, one iodine factory uses up 6,000 tons of seaweed every year to produce this chemical.

WHY is the man who does not bet as bad as the man who does? Because he is no better.

NEVER judge by appearances. A seedy coat may cover a heart in full bloom.

Blank Book Manufactory and Book Bindery.

AYER'S Hair Vigor, as its name implies, invigorates and strengthens the hair. It not only restores the original color to gray or faded hair, but by its stimulating action at the roots produces a vigorous growth, and gives it that beautiful lustre which results only from a strong, healthy growth of the hair. *

A Land Without Birds.

A French novelist somewhere says of the Englishman, "Let us go out and kill something!" This is his idea of the Englishman's practice. But he forgets his own countrymen. We have still kept our birds, though many have been destroyed by cold and hunger during these latter winters, and many more by shooting and battues. Still our birds are the glory of the land—Gloria in excelsis! But in France the fields are mute. There is no music from the skies. The larks have been netted and eaten. The birds of gay plumage have been shot and their wings put in ladies' bonnets. All over the country sparrows, finches, robins and nightingales have disappeared. All are killed and eaten. But now comes the punishment. The trees are eaten bare; the vine is destroyed by phylloxera; the leaves of the shrubs are devoured by caterpillars. They are seen hanging in bunches from the trees. The birds have been killed that destroyed the grubs and phylloxera. Hence destruction is spreading over France. The crops are eaten up at the roots, and the vine is in some districts entirely fruitless. This inhumanity, like curses, comes home to roost. Waterton has calculated that a single pair of sparrows destroy as many grubs in one day as would have eaten up half an acre of young corn in a week. And the London Times says: For the matter of birds, France is a dark and silent land. The eye searches in vain, the ear listens in vain, for nature there sits lamenting her children that are not. Whatever may be said of Republican institutions and proprietary, they can claim no partnership with nature, who clings rather to her old friends, feudalism and aristocracy. If there were reported anywhere in France as great a number of birds of gay plumage and trilling song as may be seen and heard almost anywhere a few miles from the metropolis, populations would turn out in fancy costumes, carrying guns and large bags, followed by nondescript dogs, and ready to watch whole days for the chance of a victim within easy range.

In Italy birds are used for the amusement of children. A string is tied to a bird's leg. When the bird tries to fly, it is pulled down by the string. When its powers of flight are exhausted, it is generally plucked alive, and dismembered. The children do not understand that a beast or a bird can be a fellow-creature. When expostulated with, they answer, "Non e Cristiano"—It is not a Christian.

DEATH IN THE COFFEE POT.—The public are cautioned against purchasing imported California ground coffee. Its cheapness is its only recommendation. The ingredients are of the vilest description, as anyone using it will discover should he examine the grounds. During the perihelia of the planets people should be careful what they eat and drink. Don't allow your grocer to palm off his trash upon you, because it pays him better to sell it than the good article. Ask for FELL & Co.'s Coffee and take no other. *

DENTISTRY.—Mr. R. B. Thompson, Dentist. Nitrous Oxide Gas (Laughing Gas) administered for the plainless extraction of teeth. Reduced charges for plate work. Office, upstairs in the Old Masonic Building, Government street. Hours, 9 a.m. to 5 p. m. *

NOTICES.

TO THE PUBLIC.

THE CHINESE RESIDENTS OF VICTORIA ASK a suspension of public opinion respecting the occurrence of yesterday until the case has been heard in the courts. Our people landing from the Quinta were met with a demand for the payment of a school tax. Not being residents they resisted the collector, demanding to be placed on the same footing as white passengers arriving at this port. If violence resulted the officers have themselves to blame. We have engaged the services of legal gentlemen and intend to fight the case. All we ask of the Government here is just and fair treatment, which we intend to have, if we have to carry the case to Ottawa or London. Two years ago we suffered great injustice and have never been compensated for our losses. If the Government have any just tax to collect of Chinese residents they never have to call twice; but we shall not submit to tyranny. It is the shame of all good British men that the laws are so unequally administered and our only hope is in the courts.

A REMARKABLE MAN-OF-WAR

A remarkable addition to our navy was made yesterday afternoon (writes a London correspondent). The Polyphemus, as the man-of-war which was then launched was christened by Mrs. TREVELYAN, is an experiment, the result of which will be watched with keen interest by all naval men throughout the world. It strikingly resembles the "tipcat" in shape and is specially designed for offensive as opposed to defence purposes. To this end it possesses a steel clad ram projecting under water for twelve feet from the end of which Whitehead torpedoes will be ejected. From the deck torpedoes will also be discharged, and in addition four of the most powerful Nordenfelt guns will be carried on revolving turrets. The vessel is designed as a sort of rival to such monster ships as the Italia and Lepanto, which it is thought she will be able to sink by means of her ram and torpedoes, and is therefore so engined as to have a speed calculated at sixteen or seventeen knots an hour. I cannot say, however, that I envy the officers and crew of the Polyphemus the quarters assigned to them. From the construction of the ship all the light below will have to be artificial, and air will have to be pumped in by steam power. It is only charitable to hope that the new man-of-war will not be often in commission.

BRADLAUGH AT BRISTOL.

Mr. BRADLAUGH addressed a crowded meeting in Bristol a fortnight since, under the auspices of the Bristol Reform League, whose chairman presided. In response to circulars issued from headquarters the members of the Workingmen's Conservative Association assembled in some force in order to prevent by all legitimate means the adoption of a resolution which would identify the city with the member for Northampton. Mr. BRADLAUGH spoke amid continual interruption, singing and cheers for the Queen, which were met by counter cheers for GLADSTONE and BRADLAUGH. He, however, persisted in his address, and after giving a history of his struggle over the oath, asked for a vote as to whether his hearers would support him in his determination to take his seat whether the Oaths Bill were carried or not. The result was an almost unanimous vote of approval. This concluded the business of the meeting, but instead of dispersing the people in the body of the hall indulged in several free fights. Chairs were brandished and in an ugly rush several people were pushed down and injured, while others had their heads bruised and faces cut.

AFTER THE MILITIAMEN WITH A SHARP STICK.

A correspondent writing from the camp at St. John's, Que., says:—Gen. LUARD arrived this morning and subjected the men to a scathing inspection. He was very severe on the officers, some of whom were disgracefully dressed. He asked one of the captains of the 11th Battalion to resign, and the captain promised to do so. Several officers had civilian caps, many of them had cavalry sabres, some of the mounted infantry officers had cavalry saddles, and those of the battalions had no slings to their rifles, and none of them had canteens or water bottles. He was, I believe, pleased with the physique of the men, but it was evident that he was writhing at the appearance of many of the officers. I have just, too, learned that the instructor of musketry is to condemn all the rifles as being unfit for service. General LUARD evidently means to continue speaking his mind, and if politicians do not interfere he will improve the service yet.

THE SUN'S SPECKLED FACE.

Not since the great sun storms of last fall has the sun's disk been so speckled as it is this week. Not far from the centre are two enormous groups of spots, each including one vast cavernous hole surrounded by many smaller ones. East of these groups the disk, over a broad space, is covered with scattered spots of all sizes and intermingled with the crinkled lines of faculæ, which show that tremendous disturbing forces are at work. Comets, it is suspected, sometimes throw the sun into a state of excitement by stoning him with the meteors that belong to their trains. Whether the present comet has been making a target of the sun remains to be learned. But evidently it is not the kind of comet to refrain from such sport out of respect to the sun, judging from the way the Albany astronomers saw it whisking its tail in the face of the North star.

SOCIALISM.

Mr. HENRY GEORGE, who recently lectured on 'Socialism" in Toronto, was interviewed by a reporter, to whom he said that Socialism was spreading with astonishing rapidity in the United States. The effect, he says, "will be seen in the next Presidential election. The Democratic party in the United States is dead. The Republican party is disintegrated. The candidate they will both have to fight will be the man put forward by the socialistic labour party of the United States. The Socialists will ultimately triumph, and the revolution will be ended so far as the United States is concerned." The landlord must go, and go without compensation. We are not disposed to say that Mr. GEORGE is wholly wrong, but there is too much generality in the statement that the revolution will be ended by the triumph of the Socialists. It would be interesting to know just exactly what the Socialists propose to substitute for the existing order of things.

ELECTRIC POWER APPLIED.

Electric power has been applied in France to the running of omnibuses. The first experiment was made in Paris on the 2nd inst.; nothing about the vehicle was changed, but an apparatus driven by a Faure battery wasset therein and the 'bus started off as though drawn by the safest and liveliest pair of hoses in the city. It went up hill and down hill equally well, and started and stopped without occasioning the slightest shock. What a change a few years may see wrought in the world if electricity takes the place of wood and coal for fuel, gas and coal oil for light, and steam and horses for motor power! To chain and harness the lightning is even a greater feat than to bind the unicorn with his band in the furrow,or tame him to harrow the valley.

DELAYED DISPATCHES.

EASTERN STATES.

NEW YORK, July 10.—A London special of the 9th says that Conkling's so-called statement was sent by cable to the Times and produced an extremely unfavorable impression of that statesman. The Spectator expresses the general English feeling of admiration for the president's bearing, saying that his courage is as remarkable as the soundness of his constitution; that his conduct since wounded is thoroughly American, full of domestic kindness and tinged slightly with grimness of humor. Eminent surgeons at first were inclined to despair of his recovery, but now they say, recognizing the skillfulnes of the treatment, that they share the hopefulness prevailing at Washington.

WASHINGTON, July 10.—The Chinese minister who has been absent from the city some weeks sent to-day, in his own handwriting, the following:

AVON, Conn., July 8.

Dear Sir: Having been absent from Washington since May, I was not able to call in person when the attempted assassination took place. I would, therefore, now request you to convey to the president and family my deep personal sympathy and that of Mrs. Yung Wing. We hope and pray that the president will recover and be restored to health and strength again. The Chinese government has undoubtedly expressed to your minister in Pekin its horror of the terrible event and its sympathy for the president and family. It will hail with delight every symptom of the president's improved condition and final recovery. Accept assurance of my personal sympathy with your government.

I remain your obedient servant,
YUNG WING.

Hon. Jas. G. BLAINE, Sec'y State.

ATLANTA, July 9.—A man named Waldon, accused of ravishing and then cutting the throat of Mrs. Mitchell, a respectable married woman, aged 19, of Randolph county, Alabama, was run down by bloodhounds and jailed, where he confessed. Monday night a hundred armed men secured Waldon, intending to burn him alive at the scene of his crime, but finally hanged him to the tree where his victim was found dead. He says that he thought she was a woman who testified against him in a trial.

LITTLE ROCK, July 10.—Another unprovoked, coldblooded murder is reported near Hollywood, the victim being a stranger whose only offence was taking unbidden some corn to feed his horse and paying for it a fair price to the owner.

GALVESTON, July 10.—A special from Grapeland says that T. M. Williams came into town to-day, rode up to the rear of the store of Ira Reals and accosted the crowd with the words, "Howdy, I've been hunting you all morning, and, G—d d—n you, I am going to kill you." Suiting the action to the word, he fired, part of the load passing into the room, killing John Kent, wounding Garrett and grazing another man. Williams and Kent were suitors to the same lady.

English Mail.

[Per Steamship Victoria.]

Another scheme for crossing the English Channel by railway has just appeared. The originator is Mr. Bradford Leslie, the engineer of the East India Railway Company, who boldly proposes to travel into France through a cylindrical steel tube submerged forty feet below the surface of the water. The tube would be so ballasted as to make it weigh one and a quarter tons to the foot run less than the water displaced, its buoyancy being counterbalanced by moorings at every two hundred and fifty feet. At the shore ends it would be laid in dredged or excavated channels, and would be made to rise from the mid-channel depths by easy gradients. The cost of carrying out this scheme is estimated at £8,000,000.

LONDON, June 29.—The Daily News says: The Grand Trunk issues gave way. The meeting is said to have fallen out. While the Grand Trunk statement may show an increase of over £9,000 in the net revenue, the Great Western shows hardly any increase. Immense speculation for a fall as well as for a rise is open in these Canadian stocks. The closest attention is paid to the growth of the working expenditure, which on one side is expected to end in eating up all the increase of revenue, and on the other is said to be likely to diminish proportionately to the receipts if the weather and the crops are favorable.

The following incident really occurred at Bagshot bazaar, London: A young gentleman thought he fancied a certain article exposed for sale at one of the bazaars, and he was certain he fancied the lady who presided at the bazaar. He remarked, therefore, that he thought that particular article very pretty. The lady said, "Yes, it is very pretty. My mother sent it."

"Ah! really," pursued the young gentleman, determined to discover the name of the owner of the eyes that had bewitched him. "Ah! really. Let me see, I think I have met your mother. Her name is——"

"The Queen," answered the lady.

The only daughter and heiress of the late Dr. Ayer, the millionaire pill manufacturer, is in Paris. A correspondent of the San Francisco Chronicle says that she received an offer of marrage from a Bourbon prince, a cousin of Don Carlos of Spain. She refused, and when the importance of the honor was urged, she replied: "I don't want a title half as much as he wants cash."

Du Mrurier's æsthetic young man, so happily portrayed in Punch, is a real character—a young Irishman named Oscar Wilde, who, by dint of flowing hair and strange attitudes, grew into prominence. He worshipped Mrs. Langtry as "a thing of beauty," but probably not finding that lady "a joy forever," is now prostrate before Modjeska. When street gamins followed him, he sublimely observed, "I am glad I form amusement to the lower classes." His fame at length reached Du Maurier, who immortalized him as "Maudle."

LONDON, July 6.—A brother of Mrs. Langtry has been killed by a tiger in India.

LONDON, July 6.—Viscount Sandon (Conservative) moved the adjournment of the Commons yesterday as a protest against the action of the Government in refusing to give information about the Franco-English commercial treaty negotiations. Gladstone, to avoid a heated discussion, which might do harm, promised the return asked for.

A marriage has just been arranged between Lady Evelyn Campbell, daughter of the Duke of Argyll, and Mr. Bailey Hamilton, son of the Admiral of that name. The marriage will not take place until next year.

Mr. Gladstone says that Lord Dufferin, the new Ambassador to Constantinople, carried instructions to push a settlement of the Armenian question.

LONDON, June 29.—At the Wiltshire sessions to-day, the Marquis of Townshend was fined £500 and costs, and bound over to keep the peace for twelve months, for horsewhipping Lord Edward Thynne. Col. Nepean and Francis Ellis, who abetted the assault, were fined £100 each. Lord E. Thynne abducted the Marquis of Townshend's wife.

Barrow, the veterinary surgeon who was charged by the Morning Post with fixing Ben D'Or to benefit a clique of turfmen, has secured a verdict of £175 against the publisher of that paper for libel.

BERLIN, June 27.—Baron Magnus, late minister to Copenhagen, has become insane in consequence of his removal for attending a banquet to Sara Bernhardt.

LONDON, June 29.—There are complaints that the land league funds are grossly mismanaged. Egan, the treasurer, pleads that publicity would defeat the object of the league; but it is charged that he even declines to submit the accounts to a league committee. It is alleged that some men in the pay of the league are also in the pay of the government and that when the government intended to suppress the league under the Conspiracy Act prominent men in the organization offered to supply the necessary proofs of conspiracy.

HEALTH, the poor man's riches, and the rich man's bliss, is maintained by the judicious use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla which strengthens and invigorates the system by purifying the blood. It is so highly concentrated that it is the most economical medicine for the purpose that can be used. *

IT is wonderful that a subtile miasmatic poison should produce that peculiar condition of the system which prevails when alternate chills and burning heat freeze and scorch the body at regular intervals, and it is no less wonderful that medical skill has been able to reach and expel this poison from the system, as Ayer's Ague Cure always does. *

TAKE Ayer's Pills for all the purposes of a purgative, for Constipation, Indigestion, Headache and Liver Complaint. By universal accord, they are the best of all purgatives for family use. *

ORDERS FOR PIANO TUNING should be left at M. W. WAITT & Co.'s before the 15th of this month as Prof. A. L. FRANCIS leaves at that date for a few weeks to fill engagements in New Westminster, Nanaimo and Yale. *

TO ADVERTISERS.

The Guaranteed Circulation of "The Colonist" is more than double that of any other Newspaper Published in the Province.

THE CIRCULATION MATTER IN A PRACTICAL SHAPE.

TO THE PUBLIC.

In the Standard there has appeared for some weeks a notice which claims for that journal "the largest circulation of any newspaper in the province." We have no desire to take part in the controversy that has arisen from the appearance of this card, when we say that it is not true, and that it is put forward by the publishers of the Standard for the purpose of deceiving the public. We, having the very best means of knowing the truth, believe that the circulation of The Colonist exceeds that of the Standard by at least four copies to one; and we agree to forfeit $100 for the benefit of any charitable institution the publisher of the Standard may indicate, should we fail to establish, to the satisfaction of the Mayor of Victoria and any two of the Councillors who may be selected by Mr. Smith as a committee, that the bona fide circulation of The Colonist within the city of Victoria exceeds that of the Standard by at least two copies to one. The committee to have full access to the carrier and office books of both newspapers and the carriers of each journal to be allowed to verify the correctness of the lists by a door to door canvass. Affidavits, if required, to be made.

When this proposition has been accepted and decided we shall be prepared to forfeit a similar sum if we fail to prove that the circulation of The Colonist within the city limits exceeds that of the Standard by at least three copies to one.

These are tremendous odds, but we speak knowingly and are not afraid to meet the issue at any time the Standard may see fit to accept the challenge.

Respectfully,
J. E. PARSONS,
JOHN JONES,
City Carriers of The Colonist.

THE Toronto Telegram styles British Columbia the "spoiled child of the Dominion." As many children are spoiled by kicks, cuffs and disappointments as by over-indulgence and lollipops. If this province is really a spoiled child, she has been made so by the bad treatment and ill faith of the Dominion.

ARRIVAL OF THE NEW STEAMSHIP AT SEATTLE.

What She Is and What She is Intended to Do.

The elegant new American iron steamship Willamette reached Seattle on Sunday and has since been the "observed of all observers." The Post says: "She was built for the general freighting and passenger business between Seattle and San Francisco. She has splendid accommodations for fifty passengers. Her dimensions are: Length, 345 feet; beam, 37 feet; hold 22½ feet. Steam is employed in letting go and hoisting the anchors. In handling freight, every improvement in machinery has been applied to make her an economical ship. She has four donkey engines on deck, one at each hatch. She can be ballasted very quickly by water, having a capacity for 900 tons water ballast. When loaded the Willamette draws about 18 feet. Her registered capacity is 2273 62-1000, but her actual carrying capacity is about 3600 tons. The machinery is driven by a high and low pressure engine of 54 inches stroke and 40 inches diameter. Under ordinary circumstances the average speed of the vessel is 12½ knots per hour, the propeller making about 65 revolutions to the minute. There are six water-tight bulkheads.

"The Willamette brought a quantity of flour from Portland, which is being discharged at Marshall's wharf. She will haul around to the coal schutes to-day and receive coal as rapidly as it can be obtained from the mine—about 600 tons per day.

"One thing in connection with the appearance of the Willamette here which is particularly gratifying is the fact that Seattle dealers can ship direct from San Francisco. There will be no annoying delay caused by steamers running into Victoria and lying there from 24 to 36 hours, as has been often the case heretofore. On the last two passages of the Dakota and Idaho dealers here lost heavily on fruit shipments. The steamers were practically five days in making the passage. This vexatious delay results from the carrying of the English mails, and of course cannot in any way be chargeable to the P. C. S. S. Company.

"We are informed that it was not at first intended to carry passengers until the entire fleet were placed on the line; but in answer to a clearly defined wish upon the part of the community the company has fitted up the Willamette for passenger trade, and her accommodations are first-class in every particular. It is but natural that the people of Seattle should regard with gratification this movement of the company in building and putting on four expensive and splendid vessels. Seattle will be their home port. All freight brought to Puget Sound from below will be discharged here, and will be transhipped to its destination from this city. The step forward thus inaugurated by the Oregon Improvement Company has a deep significance to the entire territory, and more particularly to this part of it. Seattle will be drawn into closer and more profitable commercial relations with San Francisco. Every avenue of industry and production will be quickened and stimulated thereby, and the true development of this basin be commenced."

Marine.

The steamship Victoria, arrived early yesterday morning from San Francisco with 175 tons freight for this city, 195 for New Westminster and 15 for Nanaimo. She has 32 passengers for New Westminster and Nanaimo. The first two days out she experienced strong N. W. winds and for the remainder of the trip the weather was fine and pleasant. She left last evening for Westminster at 6 p. m.

The steamship Orizaba, Capt. Alexander, 3½ days from San Francisco arrived yesterday morning. Rough weather and strong head winds for 36 hours. Rest of the trip pleasant and agreeable. She brought a newspaper mail; but no English or Canadian letter mail. Forty three tons freight for this city and 140 passengers. She sailed last evening at 4:3 p.m. for Puget Sound.

Rumored that the H. B. Co. will place their fine steamer Princess Louise on the Portland-Oregon route.

TUSSLE WITH DESERTERS.—Officers Hough and Flewin went out to Wall's farm, in Lake district, to apprehend three German sailors who had deserted from the steamship Quinta. The men showed fight and each officer grabbed a man, the odd fellow escaping. Flewin's man got away into the bush, but was followed and after a long struggle subdued and hand handcuffed. Hough's prisoner struggled violently; but he, too, was at last overcome and both men are now in gaol.

A WORTHY OBJECT.—The friends of Mr. Jaggers, the respectable young mechanic who was terribly injured and maimed for life by coming in contact with a buzz-saw while at work at Rock Bay, a short time ago, have tendered him a complimentary benefit at Theatre Royal, to come off on the evening of the 23rd inst. The object is a most worthy one. All the performers will freely give their services.

THE UPPER COLUMBIA.—Mr. Angus McDonald of Colville arrived in town yesterday. He saw the Rogers' party after their failure to get through the Selkirk range. The natives of the interior are steadily dying off. Mr. McDonald has passed 42 years of his life in the interior.

THE Astorian tells of a fisherman who fished all day Sunday and until twelve o'clock at night and then had to buy a salmon of another boat for breakfast.

"BECKEY" HOWARD, an old colored woman, who made a fortune catering for the appetities of the people of Olympia and their visitors, has just died of paralysis.

THE new steamship Willamette is provided with electric lights and exhibited five of them to the Seattleites on Tuesday night.

THE Thrasher case will be appealed, Mr. Theo. Davie having received instructions to that effect.

HORETZSKY STILL ON THE WAR PATH.

HE SAYS GAMSBY LOST HIS WAY IN 1875.

The examination of Mr. C. Horetzsky was continued. He read a statement respecting the survey made by Mr. C. H. Gamsby in the winter of 1875-76 of the River Kitlope, the principal affluent of the Gardner Canal, on the north-west coast of British Columbia, of which the following is a summary:—

In the evidence given last November I made a passing allusion to that survey, and, as Mr. Gamsby's report upon it in the General Railway Report of 1877 contains a wilful misrepresentation which reflects very seriously upon the truth and accuracy of my previous report of 1874, it becomes my duty to bring the matter before the Commission. In summarizing the results of my examination of the various inlets and their approaches from the interior of British Columbia in 1874, I reported that the inlet at Gardner Canal possesses the drawback of having a great depth of water, and an absence of good anchorage. I also described the Kitlope, one of the two large rivers flowing into it, as to the prospect of finding a pass by its north-west branch.

Mr. Marcus Smith read the report above referred to, examined the map, and came to the conclusion that further examination of the Kitlope would be a waste of money. The only route he judged worthy of an instrumental survey was that of the Kemsquit or Salmon River, only partially explored by me in the season of 1874 for a distance of 35 miles from the sea. Notwithstanding the very apparent objections to the Kitlope or Gardner Canal route, Mr. Fleming decided upon making an instrumental survey of the Kitlope from Gardner Canal to Lake Tochquonyala summit.

Turning now to Mr. Gamsby's report of that survey, we find that he had actually been travelling towards the sea coast instead of to the Cascade range, and had been following one or two low depressions extending between the Gardner and Dean Inlets, neither of which exceeds in elevation 1,200 feet above the sea level. The point reached by Mr. Gamsby, also the most northerly depression alluded to, are both plainly laid down on the map now submitted, a tracing of which was deposited in the Department in March, 1875, by me. But to crown Mr. Gamsby's most extraordinary assumption he went on to say:—"Having ascertained that Lake Tochquonyala was not the summit of the Cascade range and that there was no possibility of reaching that summit by this route, I decided to return. We broke up camp on the 28th March, and reached the coast on the 3rd April."

With incontestible proof in my observation book to the contrary, I now challenge Mr. Gamsby's fictitious report, the insertion of which in an important blue book is an insult to the public, a degradation to the engineering profession, and calculated to injure my reputation if allowed to go unchallenged. It can only have found place in the blue book in order to screen the chief engineer and his subordinates from well deserved odium. Divesting all these circumstances of their survey of the great expenditure attending it, which of course the public and not Mr. Fleming had to bear, the matter assumes a most farcical aspect. In June, 1876, a few months after the performance of this feat, Mr. Fleming questioned me on this subject by aid of a map, and said, "It is evident Mr. Gamsby missed his object; where do you think he got to?" and I explained that he had followed that branch of the Kitlope which has its source west of the Tsalsquot valley, and in the very core of the Cascade range, and that the end of his survey was at my canoe encampment of September 23, 24 and 25, 1874. Notwithstanding this knowledge, Mr. Fleming allowed Mr. Gamsby's erroneous report to be published one year afterwards, and suppressed more than twelve foolscap pages of mine containing valuable and authentic information. I leave to this commission the task of properly characterizing such a proceeding.

I now produce the entire original manuscript of my suppressed report of November, 1874. It will be observed that entire pages besides important passages have been cut out; these portions I have marked in pencil.

The total cost of the expedition under my charge was, with the exception of the sloop's charter, one-third of which should have been defrayed by the geological survey, $2,112 13, as per the following statement. These facts are suggestive of what might have been done by the system of reconaissance in the beginning.

At the afternoon sitting W. McNichol was examined. He was one of the engineers who formed part of Mr. Gamsby's expedition up the Kitlope river in 1875-6. In answer to the questions by the Chairman he testified that the party consisted of twelve white men and twelve Indians. There were three engineers besides Mr. Gamsby. The remaining white men were axemen and chainmen.

Q.—What was the objective point of the expedition? A.—The expedition was sent to try and find a pass through the Cascade mountains. We wished to get through them to the plateau between there and the Rockies. It was understood that Tochquonyala Lake was our objective point.

Q.—What was the first work you did after reaching land? A.—We took observations or the latitude, and followed the channel to the Kitlope.

Q.—Have you seen a tracing of that survey? A.—I made one myself.

Q.—What general course did you take after you started to explore the Kitlope Valley? A.—We went at first a little south of east for twenty-six miles, then north and east about eighteen miles to a lake which we were led to suppose was Tochquonyala. We were told that it was by Indians. We asked one of the Indians where Tochquonyala Lake was, and that was where he took us to.

Q.—As far as you know, who was the first man on the expedition who discovered that this Indian knew about Tochquonyala Lake? A.—Mr. Gamsby first told me the lake we supposed to be Tochquonyala did not empty into the Kitlope, but into a different body of water.

Q.—Did Mr. Gamsby accompany you all the way to this lake? A.—No, he remained behind in camp, about eighteen miles. Before we came to the lake he detailed Mr. Secretan and myself to search for Tochquonyala Lake. There was another engineer in the party, Mr. White, who acted as leveller. He remained behind with Mr. Gamsby.

Q.—I suppose you took observations to find the latitude? A.—We did not at the lake, but we did at the head of the inlet.

Q.—Did you mark that latitude? A.—No.

Q.—Why was it not marked? A.—Well I am not sure that one was taken. Mr. Secretan and myself did not take one there.

Q.—Had you on this expedition any sketch or plan by any person who had previously examined the locality? A.—We had a sketch by Mr. Horetzky. Mr. Secretan and myself did not take it with us from camp.

Q.—Did you think when you had reached Lake Tochquonyala that you had reached the height of land? A.—No.

Q.—I suppose you think now that was not the point you wished to reach? A.—I don't know.

Q.—What reason have you for thinking it was Tochquonyala Lake? A.—Comparison with the maps and what the Indians told us. Previous to our starting an Indian made a sketch on the snow of the lake and course, and when we got to the lake he told us it was Tochquonyala. It looked like the sketch he made in the snow.

Q.—Were you aware before you left the end of the first 26 miles that Horetzky or anyone else had stated to Mr. Fleming that there were great difficulties in the vicinity of Tochquonyala which would make it impossible to build a railway there, and that the object of the expedition was to ascertain the correctness of this? A.—Yes; that was the object of the party. The lake, we found, was different in shape from the one laid down on Mr. Horetzky's sketch. When we left Mr. Gamsby he did not intend going back until we returned. I don't know why he didn't go with us.

Q.—Then you must have assumed that Horetzky's sketch was wrong? A.—Well, I noticed there was a difference in the lake. The lake we first came to on our survey we took for his Beaver Lake, although we found it very different from his sketch. We took no notice of the latitude, but I see now that his sketch shows it. We knew we were not in the same locality as was shown on his sketch, but did not know which was right.

Q.—Have you come to the opinion that Horetzky's lake was not the true Lake Tochquonyala? A. I would rather not answer that.

The Chairman pressed the question, and witness replied that they had followed up the route laid down on Horetzky's sketch and took the lake they came to for Tochquonyala.

Q.—Do you mean to say there is no lake where he points it out? A.—I have no means of knowing whether there is a lake in that latitude. I think if there is a lake there it must be some other lake than Tochquonyala.

Q.—Mr. Horetzky in his report says he found the lake without a name and gave it the name of Tochquonyala. What do you say to that? A.—I think the lake we discovered was called after an Indian chief. The Indians told me so.

Q.—If it be true that Mr. Horetzky discovered a lake and called it Tochquonyala it is clear that it cannot be the lake you discovered? A.—All I can say is that we followed the Kitlope River up to its source and found the lake I speak of.

A MISSING MAN.—Mr. L. Foster, fifty-nine years of age, of medium height, spare in front, with sharp features, high cheek bones and a rather large sharp nose, thin face, a little florid in colour, brown restless eyes, and rather thin dark hair, tinged with gray, and generally looking like a well-to-do farmer, is described by the S. F. Call as missing since the 1st of June. He had considerable money in his possession belonging to other parties, and as his past record gives no reason to suspect him of absconding, it is feared that he may have been the victim of accident or violence. The press of British Columbia are asked to copy this item.

SHOOTING ON BOARD THE BARNARD CASTLE.—The Bulletin of the 5th inst. says:—At about noon to-day trouble occurred on board the English steamship Barnard Castle, lying in the stream, in which a a seaman named William F. Pillage was shot through the right cheek, inflicting a slight injury which was dressed at the City Receiving Hospital. Pillage says that the steward of the ship called him vile names which he would not stand, and that during the trouble that ensued the steward drew a pistol and fired at him with the effect above noted.

THE Princess Louise seems to be enjoying herself pretty well for one in poor health. We see by Truth that H. R. H. gave an afternoon party at Kensington Palace on the 9th ult., at which Mrs. Ryder's choir sang several glees and part-songs. At the opening day of the bazaar at Bagshot the Princess Louise and the Duchess of Teck, with Prince Leopold, sold busily at their stall.

"GREAT CRY AND LITTLE WOOL".—The shockingly indecent habit the government organ has adopted of setting great staring swell headings over items of no importance is like a small boy running about with a man's hat on. There is a good deal of hat and very little boy. One feels tempted to enquire when he picks up the organ, "Say, swellhead, where are you going with that item?"

FROM NANAIMO.—The Wilson G. Hunt arrived yesterday afternoon at 4:15 from Nanaimo and way ports with passengers and freight. The steamer Ada from New Westminster was seen coming out of Cowichan Bay and heading for Saanich, supposed to have been enlisting Indians for the fishing season on the Fraser.

THE MILITIA assembled in uniform at the drillshed last evening and after drill marched to town to music supplied by their own voices. The vocal powers of not a few of the members are of a high order. At The Colonist office the corps halted and sang the National Anthem and then separated for their homes.

REMOVAL.—The long established hair dressing firm of Vigelius Bros. have removed their place of business into the brick building north of their old stand where they will extend a hearty welcome to their numerous patrons. The bath tubs shine like burnished silver and al the things are clean, new and handsome.

SMALL BILLS.—The Dominion government has notified the banks that after the 1st of July they will not be permitted to issue bills of any denomination under $5. All bills under that figure will be issued by the government.

Musical--Mendelssohn Quintette Club

Lovers of music are to have an opportunity this evening of listening to the far famed Mendelssohn Quintette Club of Boston—an organization which has for nearly thirty-two years been the pride and pet thing, not only of its native city, but of the nation. Wherever this club have appeared the most flattering enconiums from the press have invariably followed. Probably a more perfectly satisfying instrumental feature, in the way of solo or ensemble performance, cannot be given by any other club of artists in the world. But the club's concerts are not made up of instrumental music only—they always have with them a singer of excellence. Miss Nellini, the present lady, has received as high compliments from the San Francisco papers as any singer who ever appeared in that city. There should be a full house. Seats may be secured at Mr. Redfern's jewelry store.

OTTAWA, June 28.—Several gentlemen in Ottawa are forming a company for the purpose of stock raising in the Northwest. They have secured 100,000 acres of land in the Bow River district.

Alex. Baker, an experienced miner, has just made an exploratory tour of the country in the vicinity of the Lake of the Woods, Manitoba, and secured fine specimens of gold, silver and copper ores.

The Commissioner of Fisheries has received advices from British Columbia stating that the fishing season has opened most prosperously. There is a large catch of salmon and the canneries on the Fraser river are doing a rushing business owing to the failure of the Columbia river fishery.

LONDON, June 30.—A list of 425 survivors from the Victoria disaster has been secured. Taking 180 as the number of the lost, a total of over six hundred persons were on board. This does not tally with the statement of some of the officers that not more than four hundred persons were on the boat.

MONTREAL, June 29.—A sensation was created yesterday at St. John, N. B., by Mr. Stanley Lawton cowhiding Mr. J. Gordon Forbes, a barrister, on the street, Mr. Herbert C. Lawton assisting in the assault. Mr. Forbes sent the Lawtons a letter threatening to have an execution issued to recover certain monies, and they deemed the letter insulting, and on being refused an apology took satisfaction in this way. Forbes will seek redress in the Supreme Court.

A Mr. E. P. McNaughton, of Montreal, who has been engaged to a young lady named Elliott for some years past married her a few days ago, and the pair went upon their wedding tour. Forthwith it is heralded in some sensational newspapers outside of Montreal that an elopement in high life has occurred. It took a great deal of writing to make an elopement out of the story, the only color of sensationalism being the stagey fury of a brother of Miss Elliott. He raised some commotion in McNaughton's family residence after McNaughton had departed on his wedding trip. McNaughton returned with his bride, and yesterday Elliott undertook to insult McNaughton. After standing repeated insults, the latter turned upon his brother-in-law and gave him a most unmerciful thrashing. He afterwards had him arrested and bound over to keep the peace.

TORONTO, June 30.—The election for the local house in North Waterloo resulted in the return of Snider, liberal, by 236 majority. The election in East Durham went for Bererton, conservative, by 229.

TORONTO, June 30.—It turns out that the late Winthrop Williams went by one name in Toronto and his lawful wife in New York went by another. At last she telegraphed to the authorities over the signature "Mrs. Whalen." She obstinately refused to view the body of her husband in the morgue, and this accounts for its hasty removal from the building before the inquest was held.

Within the past week 1,000 head of fat cattle have been shipped from Messrs. Gooderham & Worts' byres at the Don.

Two ladies and two gentlemen of position were arraigned in the Police Court this morning for destroying the flowers in the Horticultural Gardens during the sitting of the Sunday School Convention. Three of the cases were dismissed and another adjourned for evidence. It was shown they had simply walked across a flower bed.

A Montreal dispatch says a revolting murder took place at St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary this afternoon. A desperate prisoner named Hugh Hayvern, serving a term of five years for robbery, was undergoing medical treatment, though not confined to the hospital wards. It appears that this man, along with several other prisoners, were plotting their escape from the penitentiary, when their plans were discovered and the plot nipped in the bud. Thomas Slater was blamed for having given the information to the prison officials, and enraged at being checkmated, Hayvern determined upon revenge. He seems to have procured a knife and as Slater passed Hayvern stabbed him to the heart, causing instant death. Hayvern fled to a cell and held the keepers at bay for some time. He cut his throat slightly and then surrendered to the priest.

HALIFAX, June 27.—The city council to-day decided to grant to the proposed cotton factory water supply free of charge for ten years and to offer the company a choice of two sites, one at the north end of the city and the other at the south upon which to erect their buildings.

TORONTO, June 29.—The Canada Pacific Company want Winnipeg to give them a bonus of $200,000 to build a railway from Winnipeg to Turtle Mountain. They outbid Dr. Schultz by offering in return to locate the work shops of the main line as well as those of the South Western branch at the capital. The South Western Company's agent in London has sent word that the bonds can be floated without any trouble if they wished to go on with the road.

East York was represented forty years ago by the Hon. William Hume Blake, and now the traditions of that old reformer's services have been revived by the liberals of the same county tendering a nomination for the House of Commons to Mr. Samuel H. Blake, his son.

Society in Montreal has been furnished with another scandal as a theme for gossip. A gallant but unprincipled young fellow made love to three young ladies residing in Montreal and its vicinity. He married one on the quiet, and was necessarily compelled to desert the others. It seems now he repents of his choice, as he wishes to repudiate the marriage on the ground that the friends of the bride made him intoxicated, and while in that state induced him to get married.

MONTREAL, June 3.—There has been great excitement here for some days past, and which culminated to-day, in connection with the extraordinary fall in Ontario Bank stock. The feeling of indignation that has been engendered in connection with the depreciation has not been equalled here since the failure of the Consolidated Bank, and in a great many respects it is very like that unfortunate affair. During the past week the sales of stock have exceeded thirty thousand shares, the number changing hands to-day exceeding 4,000. Everyone is calling out for explanation but so far as the bank officials here are concerned they profess to know nothing beyond the affairs of the local branches. It is well for the directors that they are so far away from Montreal, or they would be called upon to answer some very troublesome questions about their management. During the past year the bank made rapid progress in the confidence of the public and many persons invested their savings in it hoping to see it rising into a first class position. I am acquainted with one gentleman who bought 250 shares, with his life's savings at par and now he sees one-fourth of his hard-earned money swept away from him. Another very hard case is that of a poor man who invested his little all in 20 shares at 96, and now he sees 20 per cent. of his money absorbed by the Shylocks of the Stock Exchange.

NEW YORK, June 24.—During the last week, at Boston, Prof. Hind, of Nova Scotia, and Messrs. Newberry & Sherman, on behalf of Secretary Bliane, have been privately examining the documents on which Prof. Hind bases the charges of fraud against the Halifax Fishery Commission. Hind, who is now here, declines to tell the impression produced on Newberry & Sherman by the examination of the documents. He says they will soon report their conclusion. Hind declares the falsified figures altered the apparent value of the fish trade between the two countries to the sum of millions of dollars.

CHICAGO, July 5.—The Times' special from Santa Fé, New Mexico, says the news from El Paso states that a party of Americans travelling in their own conveyance from El Paso del Norte to Chihuahua, came suddenly, at some sandhills about 50 miles south of El Paso, upon thirteen dead bodies, all Americans, and a portion of the surveying party of the Mexican Central Railway. The surveying party originally numbered thirty and was under the command of locating engineer C. C. Upham. The discoverers immediately returned to El Paso, from which place yesterday a strong detachment of troops were sent out to ascertain the particulars. It is supposed the massacre was committed by a remnant of Victorio's band of Apache Indians.

Mrs. Hughes, the mother of Thomas Hughes, who recently arrived in America, is 81 years of age, and is perfectly erect and stately in her carriage. Her complexion is healthful, her eyes are clear and beautiful, and though her hair is snowy white her voice is as strong and musical as in youth. She is morally and physically a remarkable woman.

HAZLETON, Pa., June 29.—Thirteen Hungarians were poisoned by eating bologna sausages at a cheap restaurant here. Five have died.

JACKSONVILLE, (Flo.) July 5.—Particulars of a most horrible triple murder have just reached here. Sheriff Meckler, of Hernando county, who lives some miles from the court house, having occasion to go there on the 29th ult., left his three children, aged 8, 11 and 14, alone with a negro named King to whom he had been very kind. The fiend shot and mortally wounded the eldest; then drove the others to the woods and left the eldest for dead, and cut the throats of the younger, and left it also for dead. He then returned and robbed the house of what he could carry and waylaid Mr. Meckler, designing to kill him on his return. A neighbor accompanied Meckler and the murderer was thwarted. The two wounded children when found were able to give an account of the terrible affair, though one and perhaps both are now dead. The assassin was captured and confessed the crime. He was hanged in the presence and with the approval of two hundred citizens, white and colored.

RICHMOND, Va., June 25.—The negroes here are greatly excited over the possible fatal illness of the Rev. John Jasper, the negro preacher made famous two years ago by preaching that the sun and not the earth moves. Many negroes regard Jasper as a sort of prophet. He has the largest congregation of any preacher in the south.

Hear! Hear! Hear!

The Fort Street Machine man again advertises that he has received a shipment of Genuine Singers. Why, the idiotic fellow has not and never did have a Genuine Singer in his shop, for they are only sold by responsible parties. Selling bogus Singers, thereby deluding the public, doctoring machines with emery powder, cutting and scraping others, is more clearly his occupation than dealing with the original and genuine Singer, whose agents are responsible men wholly unused to such tricks. The man's last trick of a short time ago was cutting and disfiguring two of the genuine Singers on their way to Nanaimo for which the captain of the boat was going to give him a flying leap overboard. The man's conscience smote him and he delivered a short prayer for forgiveness of his past sins and tricks and prayed for mercy when the captain suspended the rod of justice. What machine does he want now? A new one by the next full moon when his idiotic spells take him? Himself and his machines are played out in Victoria and elsewhere and he is now trying to pass inferior secondhand articles on the public of Victoria and vicinity; but it won't do, for he is too well known. Don't let him dupe you. As he tried to do with the Chinaman tailor in Nanaimo by ruining two of his Raymond machines in order to foist one of his inferior counterfeits upon him; but did not succeed.

THE HUMAN HAIR.

How to Preserve and Beautify it.

Many persons abuse this delicate and beautiful ornament by burning it with alcoholic washes, and plastering it with grease, which has no affirmative for the skin, and it is not obsorbed. BURNETT'S COCOAINE, a compound of Cocoanut Oil, etc., is unrivalled as a dressing for the hair—is readily absorbed, and is peculiarly adapted to its various conditions, preventing its falling off and promoting its healthy growth.

Housekeepers should insist upon obtaining BURNETT'S FLAVORING EXTRACTS, for they are the best. *

No. 11 KEARNEY STREET SAN FRANCISCO.

DR. SPINNEY, well known as the founder the Montreal (C. E.) Medical Institute, and late Proprietor of the SPINNEYVILLE INFIRMARY, would most respectfully inform his patients and the afflicted generally, that he still continues to treat chronic and nervous diseases with unparalleled success.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN

Remember that procrastination is the thief of so

COME AND BE HEALED!

It matters not what you troubles may be come and let the Doctor examine your case. It will cost you nothing for consultation, so please call and satisfy yourselves whether the Doctor understands your case. If he can cure you he will tell you so; if not, he will tell you that, for he will not undertake a case unless he is confident of effecting a cure.

Parties at a distance wishing treatment, by sending $25 and a minute description of their troubles will receive in return a full course of treatment securely packed so as not to excite curiosity.

DR. SPINNEY will guarantee to forfeit Five Hundred Dollars for every case of any kind or character which he undertakes and fails to cure.

P. S.—For diseases of short standing a full course of medicines, sufficient for a cure, with all instructions, will be sent to any address on receipt of $10.00
